A close-up photograph of several vertical wooden planks. The wood is heavily weathered, showing a mix of grey, brown, and reddish tones. There are numerous scratches, scuffs, and areas where the surface material has been worn away, revealing the underlying wood grain. The planks are arranged in a vertical stack, with visible gaps between them. In the bottom right corner, the alphanumeric code 'YS-910306' is printed in a clean, white, sans-serif font.
